

ACTOR DEMO REEL

Consultation

20-30 minute meeting or phone conversation with writer to discuss ideas and desired direction for your package tailored to the castability of each actor.

Development

You will receive 3-6 scene ideas to choose from. Choose three scenes that resonate with you and then our writers will write you the original screenplays. Take your time working on this script, we recommend spending time with an acting coach so that you're fully prepared for your day(s) on set.

Pre-production

Depending on your scene you will need other actors, locations scouted, props, wardrobe and the suitable kit hire. We will help source your actors and assist with locations. However, it is your responsibility to source your wardrobe, props, and set pieces (if applicable). For an additional cost you can have our producer sort everything for you*, and you just show up.

*Note: certain scenes may require additional cost for production expenses. Please bear this in mind when choosing your scenes. Any questions just ask our producer.

Production

We shoot on a broadcast quality camera with a crew of two-three depending on the scene. You will have a Self-shooting Director (DOP), a sound technician, and possibly a gaffer. Make-up and wardrobe are available at an additional cost. 1-2day shoot, depending on package.

Post-production

We will edit a slick two-minute reel displaying your best moments of each short film. So, that would be three clips grouped onto one video. We also offer a colouring and grading service if you'd like to take your reel one step further (additional cost).

Distribution (Optional)

For Blahzay to certify your work for Imdb, your films need to be screened. Included in the cost is a small scale (private) screening in the distillery district at a condo theatre room. However, you are free to make this event as big as you'd like. Often our clients make a whole night out of it – we are happy to connect you with an event manager. After the screening and the credits have been verified- we will register all the cast and crew in your short films. This gives you the credit. We can help you to set up your Imdb page so that the credits land on your page.
